

Agrium is North America's largest producer of nitrogen fertilizers and a major producer of potash and phosphate fertilizer. With headquarters in Calgary, Alberta, Agrium operates a strong wholesale distribution division as well as a retail marketing division for fertilizers and related products and services in the agricultural industry. Agrium's success is directly attributable to the skilled and motivated individuals who work with us. If you're a self starter and a team player with exceptional interpersonal and communication skills, we want you to be a part of our team!

Located approximately 32 kilometers southwest of Saskatoon, the Agrium Vanscoy site's employees produce Potassium Chloride, commonly referred to as Potash, which is used in Potassium fertilizer. The ore body is approximately 1 km below the surface and workers underground deliver mined ore to the surface where the mill then produces approximately 2 million tonnes per year of four sizes of high quality potash, for shipment to markets around the world.
